IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING BENEFICIARY DESIGNATIONS:

Prior to naming a beneficiary(s) to be the recipient of your awarded community property benefit, please read the following important information.

Through your divorce proceedings, the courts awarded you a community property benefit from your former spouse's retirement pension through KCERA. This benefit will be paid to you for the life of your former spouse's pension. If your former spouse does not have a survivor to receive a continuance of the pension, the benefits will cease at the death of your former spouse.

Should you predecease your former spouse, your awarded benefit will be paid to the beneficiary(s) you named on the following form. Your named beneficiary(s) will receive the benefit just as you would have. The benefit will be paid to your beneficiary(s) for the life of your former spouse's pension.

In the event your beneficiary predeceases your former spouse after your death, the awarded benefit will revert to your secondary beneficiary. The secondary beneficiary will receive the benefit just as you and your primary beneficiary would have.

Due to the significant benefit available, it is of the utmost importance that you keep your beneficiary(s) current and up to date.
